

TRACY SYKES

Tracy Sykes DPT '98 was in the inaugural class of the physical therapy doctoral program in the top-ranked USC Division of Biokinesiology and Physical Therapy. Sykes has advanced USC's leadership in physical therapy for children. She also is a founding member of the division's alumni association. Sykes is a member of the USC Thornton Board of Councilors and a champion for music education and the arts as a whole. She is proud to serve as an ambassador for the USC Thornton School of Music. She and her husband, Gene Sykes, co-chairman of Goldman Sachs' Global Technology, Media and Telecom Group, created the first endowed faculty chair within the physical therapy division. They have also funded a scholarship and two symposia focusing on the specialty.